How to Fine-Tune the Program EVEN MORE to Meet YOUR Specific Needs and Desires!

I encourage each person who participates in the Daily Energetic Support Program to set an intent for the healing and areas of energetic support that he or she would like assistance with. The easiest way to do this is to write out a simple statement like "My intent is to receive healing for _____ and energetic assistance for _____." You do NOT need to send me this however since the Creator knows what is aligned with your highest good and what will support your spiritual evolution.

Upgrades to the DESP as of October 27, 2008

In light of the accelerated change and pace of change on the planet as the ascension process accelerates, I have decided to beef up the Daily Energetic Support Program to assist people to more gracefully, easily and effortlessly handle the transition. The new energies are to:

- Clear blocks we have to thriving, prospering and being joyful in the midst of change and chaos.
- Clear, heal, transmute and release resistance to change.
- Bring in and integrate energies of going with the flow, adaptability, flexibility, sovereignty, inner peace, self love, inner strength, optimism, joy, stamina and courage.
- Clear stress, anxiety, fears - often subconscious - originating from the accelerated pace of change on the planet.
- Clear, heal, transmute and release patterns of taking on stuff from the planet and other people who are not handling change well.
- Maintain a constant strong connection to your inner divinity and to quickly upgrade and integrate changes in yourself that originate from the new energies coming into the planet with ease and grace.
- Clear, heal, transmute and release any blocks we have to asking for help and to receiving support on all levels – physical, emotional, mental and spiritual.
- Deep physical, emotional, mental and spiritual grounding into the love and consciousness of your highest level aspect of your monad which knows no fear.
- Energetic support in maintaining a strong connection to your inner divinity and to Spirit in the midst of chaos and accelerated change.
- Energies to assist you to be in the world but not of this world – so that you are able to stay clear, sovereign, calm, centered, balanced and aligned to who you truly are no matter what is going on around you.

These daily transmissions are NOT conference calls. I picked up a lot of strange energies from other people in some of the conference calls that I participated in so I have decided to just connect with the Creator and transmit the energies to the souls of the participants directly rather than through a telephone connection. That way each participant is sovereign in their energy field and not connected to the energy fields of all of the other participants. It feels much cleaner to me energetically to do it in this way.

Healing for YOUR Pet and Animal Companions as Well

When I began this program, I got that it could assist pets and animals as well as humans. So each day, when I making the daily transmissions, I also transmit healing energies from the modalities I work with - Angelic Mastery, Practical Mastery, the Universal Clearing Profile and now the Universal Pet and Animal Healing and Clearing Modality. The daily energies are sent to assist each pet or animal to function at the optimal physical, emotional, mental and spiritual well-being and health on all levels. The cost for this is just $10 per pet per month. If you choose to sign-up for this program, please email me after you place the order to let me know the name of the pet, what species they are, where they are located and if they have any significant health challenges going on.
